RED CROSS SEALS

Every year as the Christmas season draws near, the children of the Junior Red Cross become little merchants of a certain Christmas ware which they try to sell to a kindly interested public.

This Christmas attraction is nothing other than the pretty green and red seal sticker sold on behalf of the Children's Hospital in Calgary. The Alberta Division, like all other Red Cross divisions, looks to the sale of its Red Cross Seal to give an extra fillup to the funds of the Crippled Children's Hospital at the end of the year.

As a rule there is evoked a keen desire on the part of the public to support the sale of seals; many repeat orders come through the mail or by telephone from country branches whose cashiers have cashed them to exceed their sale quota, and with future customers in view, they send a rush call in for more.

The news, announced last week, that Mr. W. G. Way was resigning his position as secretary-treasurer of M. D. Valley was received with much regret. Mr. Way has held the office of secretary-treasurer since the inception of the Municipality, and is generally regarded as one of the best in the Province. Indeed he was at one time slated for a position with the Dept. of Municipal Affairs, but preferred to occupy the local job. The resignation takes effect in February. The Municipality are applying for a successor as early as possible to be in by December 19, and we understand that the applications are numerous.

Mr. W. C. Brown, we understand, leaves shortly for the Coast. Mr. Brown has been in business, or farming here since 1910, and his departure is much regretted, as he has been active in social and business affairs. Reference was made to his departure at Monday's meeting of Strathmore Masonic Lodge, of which he is a past master.

Mr. G. D. Greentree, father of Mrs. Steve Chamberlain, was seriously injured on Friday, being run over by a truck while he was putting coal in his 500 wheels. He was conveyed to Drumheller Hospital, and his condition is reported as serious.

On Friday, at 6:30 p.m., there will be a special meeting of the Bow Valley Local of the A.T.A. in the Strathmore School. If time allows the forthcoming spelling tournament will also be discussed. Before the meeting tea will be served. All teachers are cordially invited to this meeting.

Heien Pote is out of hospital. We congratulate her on her recovery and trust that she will soon be quite strong again.

We are glad to see items of interest from some of the rural schools in this and last week's column. We hope all schools of the district will send in their news and thus help to make this weekly feature a success.

The standing of Grade XI students of the Strathmore High School for November was not published along with that of the other grades last week. It is as follows: Grace Scher, Maude Macrum, Alvah Downey, Stephanie Chamberlain, Donald McKay, Leola Lewson.

LOCAL JOTTINGS

A number of local telephone subscribers have not yet called for the new directories. A quantity are available still at the office of the Strathmore Standard.

Readers will note Mr. T. Crawford's auction sale on Saturday of household furniture this week, also Mr. Yates Todd's farm stock and effects sale on the 10th. Both sales are being conducted by Mr. A. Layzell.

Posters are out announcing the big dance to be given by the Strathmore Community Rink on January 30th, and tickets are now on sale. A fine super-heterodyne radio will be given away to someone on the night of the dance. Proceeds of the dance are for the benefit of the rink, and we trust that everyone will do their bit in the interests of clean sport by getting a ticket.

Many readers will remember Leah Col. Williams, who worked with Mr. A. Haines in the fall of 1923. Col. Williams was out in this country assisting information as to the chances for ex-servicemen in this country, and took the right way of getting it by working with the boys. He was very popular while here, and it will be with regret that readers learn of his death at New Westminster, B.C., in September, word of which we have received from Mr. Haines. He had a book in process of construction, dealing with his experience in the West, but we do not know whether he was completing it before his demise.

The new buildings in town are now completed with the exception of Messrs. White's garage, and with the recent spell of fine weather it is also nearing completion. In our issue of December 17, which will be a special Xmas edition, we hope to be able to insert photographs of all the new structures.

The dance which took place on the 28th, under the auspices of the Hockey Club, was very much enjoyed, and a big crowd was in attendance, the treasury of the hockey club being fitted to an appreciable extent. All the puck chasers are waiting for now is suitable ice weather. This Florida climate is not at all suitable for ice-making.

A number of local golfers are taking advantage of the fine weather by which the gutty around the town links.

Readers will note in another column an advertisement of sale of Mr. J. H. Day & Co.'s stock and implements, which is being conducted by Mr. T. H. Beach, of Glendon.

"Around the World" is the title of a Revue which will be produced by local amateurs in the Memorial Hall on the evening of December 15, under the auspices of the Strathmore Golf Club. The dramatic faculty has been trying dormant in Strathmore, district for some time, and we are glad to witness a revival. Rehearsals are proceeding very satisfactorily.

There has been a general change over in the Strathmore Municipal Office, Fred Kington now occupying the positions of town policeman, chief sanitary inspector, caretaker of the hall superintendent of street lighting, etc., in room of Oliver Wright, resigned, Fred still preserves a cheerful expression, in face of his numerous positions.

Strathmore G.W.V.A. have decided to have the roof of the dining room of the Memorial Hall re-covered, as it has been leaking badly. They have also placed a contract for the installation of Caisie rollers in the building. Strathmore School Board have also decided to make a similar installation in the local schools. WINTER FISH CATCH IN ALBERTA

Preparations are now under way for the winter fishing operations on the big lakes of northern Alberta. A total of 250 commercial fishing permits have been issued by the Dominion Fisheries Office in Edmonton, compared with 469 last year. It is expected that 70 more will be issued. The chief fish catching centre is at Cheechan on the A. and G. W. from where over 15,000 lbs. of dressed white fish were shipped last season.

A. L. Club Notes

Mrs. J. Black entertained the Ladies Club at her home on November 27th. The number present being twenty.

The box social and Old Time Dance was a huge success, socially and financially. The club now have in the treasury $447.23, including the sum raised by the past year's work.

If the skating party proves successful, the club may have more of them.

On account of the busy Christmas season approaching, it was decided to hold no more club meetings until the beginning of the new year.

The Cribbage Tournament before mentioned will be discussed at the next meeting.

It is under discussion to hold car parties in connection with some other entertainment. Let us know what you think of this.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Black and Mrs. Ayton.

To all interested please accept these club notes as invitations to come to our meetings. We are always glad to have visitors.

The refreshment for each meeting is in the hands of the hostess, assisted, if necessary, by the ladies who serve the lunch.

The next meeting of the A. L. C. will be at Mrs. Ayton's on January 8, 1925. Remember the date.

Union Church Notes

The Wednesday afternoon last a very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mrs. Carpenter, when a shower was held for the Union Church Ladies. The Ladies Aid wishes to thank Mrs. Carpenter for her hospitality, and also all the visitors for their donations.

Saturday next our Annual Bazaar will be in full swing from 2 o'clock. There will be a sale of useful and fancy articles, house cooking, etc., and a chicken supper will be served from 5 o'clock to 7:30. Money raised from the University, of an interesting character, will be exhibited in the evening. Admission, adults, 25c, children 10c.

Xmas Concert

December 22nd will soon be here, and the children are going to give us a really fine evening. This concert is free to everybody who can speak into the church. This year we want it to be a really "giving" Xmas, so we are planning to help the "Starvation Fund, Calgary" all we can. Donations for the Tree in money or kind will be gladly received by Miss Paula Post or Miss Wampole, prior to the evening.

Tutor

Three great days happened all in one week at Tutor, and were greatly enjoyed—Wednesday, when Mr. J. Post entertained the Alpine Club of Canada, when Dr. Scott of Calgary entertained the Literary Society; and Thursday, when the Ladies Aid put on a very successful bazaar. Well done, Tutor!

The Rydal of the Literary Society, if you already in your hands, may be procured from the Secretary.

Dental Talk

By Dr. L. G. Robinson

The public generally have had little opportunity to learn something of the care of the mouth and teeth. Realizing this, the writer of this and subsequent articles of a similar nature, hopes to convey to those interested some general information that may be of use. The subjects dealt with from time to time will have to do mostly with the personal care of the teeth and the tissues of the mouth, and instruction to parents, with regard to the care of children's teeth.

Much trouble has been caused by improper methods of cleaning teeth, not to the teeth, but to the gums surrounding them, for energetic scrubbing, improperly done, does more harm than good, and may lead to recession of the gums, or even pyorrhea.

In brushing out teeth, we should have two objects in view—first, to cleanse the teeth, and second, and much more necessary, to stimulate the gums to a healthy condition. If the teeth themselves have been properly cared for, the normal gum is most important than any other factor in the prevention of pyorrhea, loose teeth, abscesses, etc.

With any good paste applied to a dry, clean brush, scrub vigorously the "biting" surface of the teeth. Next, with the bristles of the brush resting on the gums above the upper teeth, apply a moderate pressure until the gums which are the blood is driven back, then draw the brush slowly over the surface of the teeth, allowing the blood to rush back with renewed vigor into the gums. Then the pressure as the brush is brought upward to repeat the movement. Continue this movement three or four times, and, in a similar manner brush all the lower and adjacent gums of the upper jaw both inside and out. Treat the entire lower jaw in a similar manner, excepting that the pressure is applied during the upward movement, relaxing as the brush is returned to the gum surface. The last part of the operation should consist of a light circular or rotary movement of the brush over all surfaces of the teeth to remove the loosened debris. Rinse the mouth with warm water.

This method, if used consistently will be found to promote a vigorous healthy glow to all the tissues surrounding the teeth.

FINISHED IF NOT POLISHED

Left: The time when the first line of the Montreal-Toronto line was built. Right: The time when the line was finished. The illustration shows a large stone ballast pile being loaded onto a train car by a crane. The text describes the process of ballasting the track, which involves spreading a layer of stone or gravel over the ties and rails to provide a stable base. The process is described as being "finished if not polished," meaning that the track is ready for use but may still need some final touches or maintenance.

Baintree Sidelights

On Saturday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lyons was invaded by a large number of people from many parts of the district. Everyone received a cordial welcome, and a happy evening was spent in admiring the new home, playing games, and dancing. A bountiful repast was served by the ladies, and shortly before midnight the crowd returned to their respective homes, tired, but happy.

Thank you, Carleland, but your advice comes too late. We got just the age for knitting, and have taken to dancing with the chicken. And there ain't one belly word in the language to express our feelings when a nice young man leans on our manly breast and says: "Old pal, ain't you did you quite hailing." It is our heart with joy, and make us pity the misguided guys, who maintain that fox trotting is a pastime only fitted for the poor benighted heathen.

Listen, ladies, if you have almost decided to get rid of your flowing tresses, wait just a little longer. In one of the large eastern cities the price of a shingle bob has been reduced to fifty cents during certain hours of the day—an intangible sign that the ladies will soon be singing: "We Ain't Goin' to Bob No More."

A gentleman living in the east has just donated a hundred thousand plunks to a well-known university. When making the present he declared that it was the amount of money he had saved by not smoking. He told the old gents that if he ain't got the right kinda cigs. The chancellor of our exchequer hands in the meagre sum of four-bits every weekend for that purpose, and it ain't enough. At the present time we owe about seven marks of duhman on this side, and when the day of reckoning comes, as it must to all who tread the wide and winding path, we'll be where Pat was when he rope broke—suspended in mid air in the "ho" on the bottom of a bottomless pit.

This is the tale of a cat who lost his first life. In the days of our happy childhood, our aged grand mother requested us to drown the old cat, who resided in the dignified name of James. As he grew old, James deteriorated rapidly, and created widespread scandal by mauling children, cats, and pigeon holes, in broad daylight—hence the need for his departure to the happy hunting grounds. Grandmother warned us to do the deed securely, but being young, we did it in our own haphazard manner. When the bridge was reached we dropped Jim into the stream below and left for further adventures. Meeting a bunch of pals on the way, we the old swimming hole, we received, and accepted, the invitation to take part in the proceedings. After we had spent a couple of hours with the bunch, we remembered that Jim, considering James to the deep, we were entitled to a chunk of one. Hence, we do not hurry, and as we entered the door of Granny's humble cottage, who do you think greeted us in the old kindly way. Yes, it was James, as large as life, and as happy as a cat with eight lives could be.

A regular meeting of the U.F.W.A. was held on Thursday afternoon. Although the attendance was again disappointing, a very pleasant time was spent. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. A. Van Camp, who was the hostess for the afternoon.

Will some bird with an up-to-date conscience kindly answer this question? If a Scotch guy who has just joined the cold water brigade is asked by a few gals to have a free Johny Walker, how should he act? We need it folks, but we'd like to have your valued opinion just the same.

The farmer is the salt of the earth, the backbone of the universe, the very wheel on which the commerce of the world spins on. From the soil has come many of the world's greatest human beings, and achievements. In Suite of these men, people who live in the cities of our brave young were prior to think along other lines. When the man with the hoe is looked he is often regarded as a no good cuss, and a dead-end, when he dares to protest against a real injustice he is spoken of as a Bolshevik, or worse, when he buys some cotton socks and punk shoes, the gents who wear some imported tweeds and fine linen—often carried by the sweat of another guy—hold up their hands in horror over the extravagance of him who dares to toll—often under unfavorable conditions. It is a melancholy fact, gentlemen, but we hope some day soon, the misanthropic will be dispelled. Until that time comes both dirt and farm must suffer from its baleful influence.

The Blairmore Enterprise in its last issue, tells another story at the expense of the much-maligned Scotchmen. The Enterprise says the wind blew so hard that a dollar bill was blown out of the hand of a Scotchman.

Tell The World You're Proud To Live In STRATHMORE

Surely, you have all the reason in the world to be thankful you live in Strathmore. Your commercial interests are here. Your social interests are here. Your prospects here are far more promising than they would be anywhere else. Nary a cloud hovers on the horizon of your future. Could things look any brighter.

Compare Strathmore with New York, Chicago, or any of the larger centres of the country. There it is—"Everybody for himself. Get what you can and the best of luck." It's hustle, hustle every minute with never a thought or a kind deed for a neighbor's welfare.

How different the spirit is here. Your neighbor's interests are your own. He thinks—"What can I do to please others? What can I do to help improve the town, help it grow and make it a better place in which to live?" Your thoughts are the same. And through your actions and his actions, Strathmore has become the best place in the world.

Population doesn't make a great community. It's the spirit of those who live in it.

So, do a little "Oral Boosting". Tell the world you're mighty happy to be here.

We, the undersigned professional and business interests, are doing our share by advertising the fact.

Do yours, by "WORD OF MOUTH".
